Biverping Effect of Yesterday's Aldermanic Resolution-The Stands Must be Licensed by the Mayer, and No Private Owner Can Receive Rent for the Obstructions-

Mayor Hawitt has for some time had a grievance against the fruit and other booths and stands which protrude by thousands like unsightly excrescences on the buildings hroughout the city.

He seemed to be possessed with a fear that their gradual but steady encroachment upon the street would finally close the thoroughfare to traffic, and looked about him for a

He found it in a form of resolution loading with restrictions the permits to erect thesstands, and which was adopted with certain modifications by the Board of Aldermen at yesterday's meeting.

The power to grant the permits is continued with the Board of Aldermen, which has exercised it since the abolition of the Bureau of Permits on Jan. 30, 1886. The tinued with the Board of Aldermen, which has exercised it since the abolition of the Bureau of Permits on Jan. 30, 1886. The stand or booth must be no larger than 6 feet by 4 and can be maintained only at the pleasure of the Board, with power in the Mayor to revoke the permit at any time.

The Mayor issues the permit, which is numbered, and the number must be prominently posted on the stand, and the police may require the exhibition of the permit by the proprietor of the prand at any time.

No rent is to be pail to the owner or lessee of the building in front of which such stand is created and payment of such rent works a forfature of the license. The stand is not to remain open for business after midnigh and no person, is to be allowed to sleep in any portion of the structure.

Permits for but one stand are to be issued to one person, and he must be a citizen of the United States.

This last provision was incorporated in the resolution by Alderman Rinckhoff, and it has been suggested that Mayor Hewitt might retuse to approve the resolution because of the restriction to American citizens. His opinions with regard to citizenship and the rights of foreign emigrants are too well known, however, to admit of grave doubt that he will approve it.

Licenses are not issued to truckmen, dr.yers, expression, &c., unless they are citizens of the United States, and the Mayor will probably find in this fact reason for his appreval of the restriction of permits to this class to sell fruit.

The restrictions imposed at the Mayor's sugge-tion, however, are of such character, were they applied to all booths and stands now erected, that they would result in the zemoval of more than three-quarters of them in short order, and there is little doubt that an attempt will be made to require all stand propilitors to obtain the permit under the new regulations or go out of business because of their inability to comply with them.

Making the payment of reus reason for forfeiture is enough to reduce the number of stands more than three-tou

"Why, there are some fruit stands in the city which cannot be purchased for $2,000. Notable among these are those on Nassau street, at the corner of John street and Maiden lane.

Mr. McGinnis said that nearly all of the booths and stands exceed the limit of space allowed by the Common Council and are liable to removal as encumbrances.

He thought that not more than 15 per cent. of them are owned by citizens, the balance having unna uralized Italians for proprietors. Supt. Richardson, of the Bureau of Incumbrances, said he knew of one corner on Sixth avenue where $100 is received for stand privileges. He says that it is now a difficult matter to get a stand proprietor to acknowledge that he pays anything for his privilege, and he thinks Mayor Hewitt will have a hard task to prove a case of rental if he desires to forfeit a permit.

Mr. Richardson is satisfied that there is a padrone system running a great many of the fruit and bootblack stands. With reference to the making lodging houses of these stands, is said that he knew of one boy in Sixth expensed.

to the making lodging houses of these stands, he said that he knew of one box in Sixth ave-sue, hardly fit for a dog kennel, where he understood two men and a woman sleep mightly.

The practice of lodging in these dark, dirty, vermin-infested holes is general throughout the city, and pale, dirty creatures may be seen dragging themselves out of them at al-

When Mayor Hewitt's and Alderman Binckhoff's ideas are embodied in an ordinance and the prohibition contained in the present permit resolution becomes general, this evil, at least, will be done away with, though it is doubtful if this lodging place is not infinitely better than some of the cheaper lodging houses which were recently raided by the sanitary police.
